ArcheBooks Captures Latest Volume in P.M. Griffin's Star Commandos Series.

Las Vegas, NV and Alpharetta, GA, October 28, 2003— ArcheBooks Publishing, announced today they have secured publishing rights to the science fiction novel Star Commandos: Pariah. ArcheBooks also announced they will publish "Award Winning" author P.M. Griffin's 12th Star Commandos volume early next year.

Star Commandos: Pariah is an exciting account of Captain Sogan, Colonel Conner and the rest of the Federation Fighter Crew as they make an emergency Planeting on the War Ravaged and Hostile environment of Elaine of Avalon. The ensuing tale is of the Federation Commandos' Heroism and Honor as they turn certain Defeat into Victory. Commando-Captain Varn Tarl Sogan and his commander and wife, Commando-Colonel Islaen Conner, have emerged as heroic warriors of the Federation's Commando team.

P.M. Griffin has been writing since her early childhood. Griffin's Irish love of storytelling coupled with her passion for history, the natural world, and her meticulous research have resulted in fifteen novels and nine short stories, all in the challenging realms of science fiction and fantasy.

ArcheBooks was formed in September 2003, as a wholly owned subsidiary of Gelinas & Wolf, Inc. G & W's business model was developed with the knowledge that the Internet and electronic messaging would continue to expand the creative boundaries previously assigned to traditional media publication. The principles, Bob Gelinas and Ralph Wolf, continue their revolutionary approach towards business development and their belief in the continuous evolving role the Internet plays in future business models.
